

FLOWERING BEE LAWN

Good for Bee Diversity

More than 56 species of bee pollinators were found just on white clover growing in park lawns. That's nearly 15% of the bee species in the whole state!

Adding additional flower species to lawns will support even higher bee diversity and ensure they are not competing for the same resources.

z.umn.edu/floweringbeelawn

Initial research supported as recommended by the Legislative-Citizen Commission on Minnesota Resources